

Cyril Creque-Sarbinowski

522 West 33rd Street – Baltimore, MD, 21211

☎ +1 (216) 282 4561 • ✉ creque@jhu.edu

Education

Johns Hopkins University (JHU) Ph.D Candidate in Physics & Astronomy Advisor: Marc Kamionkowski	Baltimore, MD 2017-Present
Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) B.S. in Physics and Mathematics	Cambridge, MA 2013-2017

Teaching

AS.171.107 General Physics for Physical Science Majors Teaching Assistant Lecturer: Prof. Robert Leheny & Prof. Rosemary Wyse	Fall 2017
AS.173.111 General Physics Laboratory I Section Head	Fall 2017

Awards, Scholarships, Fellowships

National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellow	2019-Present
Gates Millenium Scholars Program Scholar	2013-Present
Kelly Miller Fellowship Fellow	2017-2019

Conferences, Workshops, Seminars

Conference: Pheno 2021	May 2021
Conference: XIX International Workshop on Neutrino Telescopes	Feb. 2021
Conference: Neutrino 2020	Jun. 2020
Seminar: Bowdoin College	Nov. 2019
Invited Talk Title: Direct Millicharge Dark Matter Cannot Explain the Anomalous EDGES Signal
Conference: National Society of Black Physicists Annual Conference	Nov. 2019
Conference: Cosmic Controversies, Kavli Institute for Cosmological Physics	Oct. 2019
Workshop: Novel Ideas for Dark Matter, Princeton Center for Theoretical Science	Jan. 2019
Conference: National Society of Black Physicists Annual Conference	Nov. 2018
Talk Title: Searching for Decaying and Annihilating Dark Matter with Line Intensity Mapping

Conference: Identification of Dark Matter, Brown University

Jul. 2018

Talk Title: Searching for Decaying Particles with Line Intensity Mapping

Workshop: Second Annual Line-Intensity Mapping Workshop (IM@Hopkins), JHU Jul. 2017

Conference: Neutrinos and Light Particles in Cosmology, Berkeley Center for Cosmological Physics
Jun. 2016

Conference: National Society of Black Physicists Annual Conference

Feb. 2015